Detroit-Area Community Information System (D-ACIS)

The Detroit-Area Community Information System (D-ACIS) is designed to create a comprehensive data warehouse of regional data; provide targeted support to foundations' neighborhood-level change initiatives; and create convenient, user-friendly access to data and information for community stakeholders.

The creation of a powerful new regional data system will provide Detroit city and metropolitan-area officials, community leaders, private foundations, and other key decision-makers with the comprehensive information they need to promote economic prosperity throughout the southeastern Michigan region. Until a website is publicly available, we suggest inquiries be directed to Kurt Metzger, D-ACIS Director, at [kurt@d-acis.org]
